

Research Grant for Foreign Scholars in Chinese Studies

1. The Center for Chinese Studies (CCS) has the following provisions for its research grant.
2. This grant is aimed at foreign professors, associate professors, assistant professors (including post-doctoral researchers) and doctoral candidates in Chinese studies-related departments at foreign universities, as well as researchers at related foreign academic institutes. The research should be undertaken in Taiwan, and be focused mainly on Taiwan or Chinese studies.
3. CCS provides assistance with research expenses, research materials, liaison with universities and research institutions, and use of CCS facilities, etc.
4. Research tenure is from one month to one year.
5. Applications should be submitted to CCS by May 31 of each year before the year in which grants are intended to be used; notification of CCS's decision will be given by the end of August of the same year after a careful review.

Applications should include the following documents:

- 1) Application form
- 2) Curriculum Vitae (including a list of publications)
- 3) Research plan
- 4) Letter(s) of recommendation

6. Grant recipients are entitled to travel and research subsidies. Eligibility for travel subsidy is restricted to foreign scholars who currently reside abroad; we regret that scholars already in Taiwan are ineligible.
7. Subsidies available under the Research Grant are as follows:
  - 1) Travel subsidy: One direct round trip economy class air ticket from the domicile of the grant recipient to Taipei will be provided by CCS. Travel expenses will be reimbursed upon arrival in Taiwan on the basis of the ticket stub and receipt.
  - 2) Research subsidy: Paid to grant recipients at the beginning of each month and divided into four levels: professor, associate professor, assistant professor, (including post-doctoral researcher), and doctoral candidate.

Researchers at academic/research institutes will also receive research subsidies according to the above scale. The actual amounts of research subsidies are determined by CCS and any adjustments to those amounts will be decided upon by the CCS Advisory Committee.

8. Grant recipients must sign a contract with CCS and observe the following regulations:
  - 1) No outside employment is allowed without the prior approval of CCS. Concurrent acceptance of a grant from any other organization in the R.O.C. is not permitted.
  - 2) Participation in all scholarly research activities arranged by CCS is required.

- 3) All regulations must be observed when using CCS and National Central Library facilities.
- 4) A research report or paper must be submitted to CCS by the end of the grant recipient's research tenure.
9. Grant recipients who fail to observe Article 8 will have their research subsidies terminated by CCS.
10. Scholars who have previously received a grant may apply again three years after completion of their research projects.
11. Any matters not covered by the above provisions will be dealt with by CCS with the authorization of the CCS Advisory Committee.
12. These provisions have been approved by the Ministry of Education. Any revisions hereto must be approved by the CCS Advisory Committee and reported to the Ministry before coming into effect.

CENTER FOR CHINESE STUDIES

In 1981, the Ministry of Education of the Republic of China established the Resource and Information Center for Chinese Studies to promote sinological research and exchange between the R.O.C. and the international community. In November 1987, the name of the Center was changed to the Center for Chinese Studies (CCS) to enhance its research functions.

The major tasks of CCS are as follows:

1. Conduct searches on and to acquire materials related to Chinese studies.
2. Provide reference and research services.
3. Report on research activities in the field of Chinese studies.
4. Edit and publish bibliographies and indexes related to Chinese studies.
5. Promote research projects in specialized areas of Chinese studies.
6. Publish journals and monographs in Chinese studies.
7. Assist scholars in carrying out sinological research in the R.O.C.
8. Organize various scholarly activities.

The Ministry of Education has set up the CCS Advisory Committee, consisting of academics and experts in the field, to develop policy and oversee the implementation of various projects. CCS is located within the National Central Library (NCL), which is also responsible for its administration. Its collection includes foreign doctoral dissertations on topics related to Chinese studies, microfilms of Dun-huang scrolls, facsimiles of lost Chinese rare books that can not be found in Taiwan, and sinological research materials published in Mainland China. NCL's ample resources and various facilities provide an ideal research environment for scholars in Chinese studies. CCS regularly publishes periodicals, bibliographies, indexes and monographs in Chinese studies. CCS also sponsors international conferences and participates in international book exhibitions each year in order to further promote exchanges among sinologists.
